Dinner-Theater Variety Show Presented by Mr. and Mrs. Club

"Happy 100th Anniversary, PAS" is the title of the second annual Dinner-Theater, sponsored by the Mr. and Mrs. Club. In keeping with the spirit of the celebration of this exciting anniversary, the show on Sunday, May 2 will be dedicated to the Synagogue and will include material written especially for this event.

The Dinner-Theater will be held in the Lemberg Auditorium. Dinner will be served at 6:15 P.M. and will be followed by the Variety Show, a show filled with music — vocal and instrumental, comedy turns and several surprises, including a mystery M.C. The show is directed by our famous Jack Wolf, assisted by Miriam Brown with a cast which includes members of the Congregation.

The first Dinner-Theater presented by the Park Avenue Synagogue Players last year was such a huge success, SRO (Standing Room Only, as they say on Broadway), that it is suggested that you return your reservation, which you have already received in the mail, EARLY!

Don't miss this fun-filled evening!

Course on Judaism and the Arts Given in Sherr Institute

For four successive Wednesdays, beginning April 21, from 8-9:30 P.M., a new course will be presented in the Sherr Institute of Adult Jewish Studies which will focus on the Jewish artist at work.

Yerach Gover and Frederick Terna, members of the High School teaching staff, have agreed to present this unique course in the Sherr Institute.

Mr. Gover is an Israeli author of short stories and screenplays. He is interested in using visual media to portray "mundane heroism", the heroism of individuals in the background of their times. Mr. Terna, a painter, concentrates on Jewish themes, using the canvas as a form of visual midrash in an effort to tie the past and the present of Jewish experience together with the symbols of Jewish art.

For more information, consult the Sherr Institute brochure.

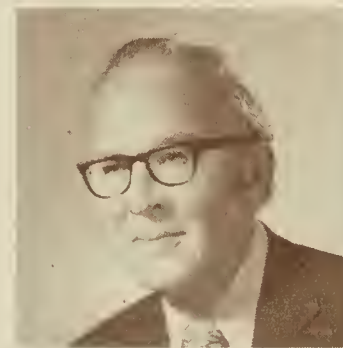

Congregation to Honor Rabbi and Mrs. Nadich

Invitations will be mailed soon to the congregation inviting them to attend a Luncheon honoring our Rabbi, Judah Nadich, and his wife, Hadassah, for their twenty-five years of service to Park Avenue Synagogue.

The Officers and Trustees of the Congregation have designated the afternoon of May 8, following Shabbat Services, as the time when they, joined by the members of the synagogue, will come together to take special note of this significant event in the history of Park Avenue Synagogue. In the one hundred years Park Avenue Synagogue has been an entity, Rabbi Nadich is our first spiritual leader to serve in the pulpit for this length of time.

Rabbi Nadich, in addition to his service to the congregation, has held and continues to hold a prominent place in the Jewish community, here in the United States and in Israel.

He is the past president of The Rabbinical Assembly, the international organization of Conservative rabbis; past president of The Association of Jewish Chaplains of the Armed Forces; past president of The Jewish Book Council of America; and former vice president of the Hadoar, the American Hebrew weekly magazine. He is vice-president of the Jewish Braille Institute and a member of its Board of Directors since 1957. He is a member of the Board of Directors and of the Executive Committee of the Jewish Theological Seminary of America. He serves on the Board of Directors of the Federation of Jewish Philanthropies of New York, the National Jewish Welfare Board and its Executive Committee and the Schocken Library and Research Institute in Jerusalem. He is a member of the Committee on Religious Affairs of the Federation of Jewish Philanthropies. He is past Chairman of the Commission on Jewish Chaplaincy of the Jewish Welfare Board. He was a member of the United States Delegation to the International Liberators Conference in October, 1981.

Rabbi Judah Nadich

At the invitation of the Department of Defense and the Armed Forces Chaplains Board during November 1971 he conducted Torah Convocations in South Vietnam and Japan and visited Jewish chaplains and servicemen in those countries and in Thailand with the assimilated rank of Major General; similarly, in Germany in November 1974.

Following World War II he spent one and one-half years on an extended speaking tour, addressing Jewish communities in forty states on behalf of the United Jewish Appeal and, on behalf of the Joint Distribution Committee addressing Jewish communities throughout South Africa, Zimbabwe and Zambia as the guest of the South African Jewish War Appeal.

During World War II he served as an army chaplain, spending three and one-half years in the European Theater of Operations as senior Jewish chaplain with the American army and Deputy to the Theater Chaplain. After the first German concentration camps were captured, General Eisenhower appointed him his advisor on Jewish affairs. He received several American decorations, the French Croix de Guerre and the Order of the British Empire. He retired from active duty in 1946 with the rank of Lieutenant-Colonel. The government of Israel decorated him with the Ittur Lohemei Hamedinah for his services during wartime in the creation of the State of Israel.

He is the author of Jewish Legends of the Second Commonwealth, to be published by the Jewish Publication Society of America in 1982, of Eisenhower and the Jews, and the editor and translator of The Flowering of Modern Hebrew Literature by his late father-in-law, Menachem Ribalow; the editor of Al Halakhah v'Aggadah, a volume of Hebrew essays by the late Professor Louis Ginzberg. He is a contributor to the Encyclopedia Judaica, to Rabbis in Uniform, to Essays in Jewish Booklore and to The Jewish Book Annual, vols. 19, 26-30. Magazine articles written by him have appeared in Hadoar, Congress Weekly, Conservative Judaism, The Reconstructionist and Journal of Jewish Social Studies. His brochure on Yom Kippur written for the Jews in the Armed Forces of the United States has a distribution in the hundreds of thousands. Prayers written by him have been published in the popular paper-

Freedom From Or Freedom For

The word freedom is one of the best known, most used, and greatly misunderstood words in our vocabulary. Do you remember Franklin Roosevelt's Four Freedoms? Do you recall the Freedom Fighters and the Freedom Marchers? Each day our newspapers carry stories about people who claim they are demonstrating for freedom. The search for and the yearning for freedom is as old as human history and we Jews consider it so important that we devote our most joyous and colorful festival to it. The holiday of Pesah, which is upon us, is our own unique tribute to the deepest of all human needs, the need for freedom — personal freedom, national freedom, political freedom, religious freedom.

But freedom does not mean anarchy, nor does it mean license to satisfy one's needs. We Jews have a strange way of teaching the meaning of freedom to our children. One would imagine that Pesah, the festival which has at its heart the concept of freedom, would say to its adherents, "This festival of freedom is a signal for you to do whatever your heart desires. Take a vacation, fulfill your every wish, go your own way, rid yourself of all obligations and put yourself up there as Number One! You don't have to do anything except what you please and what makes you happy."

But no — the exact opposite is true. Our holiday of Pesah says, "Clean your house, eat only certain foods, sit down at a seder table, follow a prescribed order of service, repeat the same words, the same songs, the same prayers." Is this freedom? Is it not a form of regimentation which will stifle the spirit and suppress one's creativity and initiative?

A New Haggadah Just Published by Conservative Movement

All of us can enjoy the new and exciting Haggadah that has just been published by the Rabbinical Assembly for use by Conservative Jews, their families and friends.

"FROM DARKNESS TO LIGHT", a full-color 144-page work, took five years to produce. The new Haggadah contains the best of our tradition together with contemporary thoughts and faithfully reflects the ideology of Conservative Judaism.

MOST IMPORTANT you will find this Haggadah easy to use since every step of the Seder ritual is fully explained. Your family and friends can participate in an informed, stimulating Seder experience.

"If the Answer is God, What is the Question" is just one of the numerous questions and answers provided in a special running commentary printed alongside the text.

There's much more . . . a new historical section, rabbinic and biblical background material, readings in memory of the Six Million, prayers from Soviet Jews and the FIFTH CUP as a tribute to the State of Israel. The new Haggadah also draws upon many scholars and writers from the past and present: Martin Buber, Max Kadushin, Louis Finkelstein, Harold Schulweis, Samuel Dresner, Elie Wiesel, Robert Gordis, Chaim Potok, Abraham Joshua Heschel, Solomon Schechter and the Hasidic Masters.

You can purchase your copies of this new Haggadah in the Sisterhood Gift Shop, located on the first floor of the new building, opposite the Appleman Chapel.

Rabbi Tokayer Explores Experiences of Jews in Far East

"Pepper, Silk & Ivory — The Jews of China, India and Japan" will be the topic discussed by Rabbi Marvin Tokayer at the next Open Meeting of Sisterhood on Tuesday, April 20 at 1 P.M.

Rabbi Tokayer, while a Jewish chaplain in the Air Force, discovered a long-lost Jewish cemetery in Nagasaki, which had been protected from the devastation of the A-Bomb by the location of its site. He helped to refurbish and reestablish the cemetery and it is now maintained by the Jewish community of Tokyo.

He returned to Japan in 1968 as the first Rabbi to the Jewish community there. He is the author of some fifteen books on Japanese and Jewish wisdom, literature, education, the Talmud, and even a best-selling book comparing Japanese and Jewish ways.

Sisterhood invites its members, the congregation and its friends to join them for a most illuminating afternoon.

Refreshments will be served.

Special Program Featured At Parents Association Open Meeting

Those of you who attended the Purim Seudah after the Megillah Reading got a sample of what is in store. Spread the word. Everyone is invited. It will be a grand and exciting and stimulating evening!

In Each Generation Every Individual Should Feel Personally Redeemed From Mitzrayim . . .

It is difficult for one who lives in freedom to imagine being a slave. A person who has always been free to reside and work where he pleases, to think and speak out without fear, to choose his friends and his beliefs, cannot understand what it means to be denied these basic liberties. And yet, this is exactly what we are commanded to do on Passover. The text of the Haggadah does not allow us to distance ourselves from the experience of bondage: "You shall tell your children on that day, saying 'It is because of what the Lord did for me when I went free out of Mitzrayim.'" It is not enough, according to the Haggadah, for us simply to remember that our ancestors suffered, for if they had not been delivered from servitude, "then we, our children and our children's children would still be enslaved . . ."

Indeed, except for an accident of birth, or slight change of circumstance, we might now be living in oppression in the Soviet Union. If we were Soviet Jews we would be unable to practice Judaism freely, to learn the language and history of our people, to pass on our faith and way of life to a new generation. Then we would know only too well what it means to lack freedom; to have our lives monitored by others; to be punished for our beliefs; for simply wanting to live as Jews. 500,000 Soviet Jews who have begun the emigration process now wait while the latter-day Pharaohs in the Soviet Union choose not to let the Jewish people go. The outpouring of Jews in today's exodus has been reduced to a trickle. Just as our ancestors in Mitzrayim cried out, and their plea was heard, today's crisis compels us to join our Soviet brothers and sisters in their cry for freedom. How? By adding our individual voices to hundreds of thousands of others at the March and Rally on Solidarity Sunday for Soviet Jewry, May 2, beginning at 12 noon. Our synagogue has an assigned assembly point on 55th Street. Join us!

Rabbi Nadich

book, A Minute of Prayer, and in Treasured Volume of Prayers, edited by John Scott. He is quoted in two collections: Contemporary Quotations by James B. Simpson and The Quotable Rabbis by Samuel Silver.

He was ordained by the Jewish Theological Seminary of America, which also awarded him the degrees of Master of Hebrew Literature, Doctor of Hebrew Literature and Doctor of Divinity (honoris causa). He received his Bachelor of Arts degree with Phi Beta Kappa honors from the College of the City of New York and the Master of Arts degree from Columbia University.

Rabbi and Mrs. Nadich, are the parents of three daughters: Leah Nessa Meir (Mrs. Aryeh), Shira Nadich Levin (Mrs. James) and Nahma Meira Nadich. They are the proud grandparents of Natan Menachem and Adin Yehoshua Meir and Alexander Nadich Levin.

Freedom

Picture, if you can, the history of the Jewish people without the Passover seder these past millenia. What would have happened to this glorious concept of human freedom? I have no doubt that it would have been relegated to the history and philosophy books. Without form, the abstract idea floats in the air. With form and ritual it takes root in the family, the home, and the hearts of old and young alike. By pouring the idea of freedom into the mold of the Passover holiday, with its regulations and minutiae, we give the idea of freedom substance and meaning, life and vitality.

May your Passover holiday be rich in joy, in festivity and meaning.

— Judah Nadich

There are still opportunities for congregants and friends of the congregation to make a significant contribution to the Building Fund. It is the hope of the Board of Trustees that those of you who can make additional pledges to the Building Fund will continue to do so; those of you who can accelerate pledge payments will do so now; and those who have yet to contribute will wait no longer, but join with your fellow congregants in the completion of our mutual responsibility.

Please call Barrie Modlin, our Executive Director, 369-2600, for information on how you can become part of this mighty effort.

Jewish Foster Homes Needed For Jewish Children

The Jewish Child Care Association is looking for Jewish foster homes for school-age children in their care. There is a need for homes for children six years and older and for children who are physically or mentally disabled. Foster parents enjoy the full support and resources of the Jewish Child Care Association with its 150 years of experience in foster child care. This includes a full range of social work and medical services, financial supports and round-the-clock emergency phone service.

Every child in foster care has a social worker who eases the adjustment to the new home, helps the foster family become accustomed to its new member, and counsels the child's own family about its problems. The social worker is always there for support and consultation around-the-clock.

There is no greater satisfaction in life than helping a child to grow — especially a child in need.

For more information call the Jewish Child Care Association at 490-9160, Ext. 113.
